Alling has interviewed over 100 women from all walks of life, and she has captured their stories in this book. These women have faced challenges such as poverty, abuse, discrimination, and illness. But they have all persevered, and they have all achieved great things.

The stories in this book are inspiring, but they are also real. Alling does not shy away from the challenges that these women have faced. She tells their stories with honesty and compassion, and she allows their voices to be heard.

The Journey Home is a book that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a book that will inspire you to be more resilient, more courageous, and more determined. It is a book that will help you to believe in yourself and your ability to achieve your dreams.

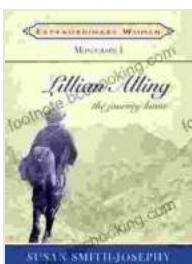

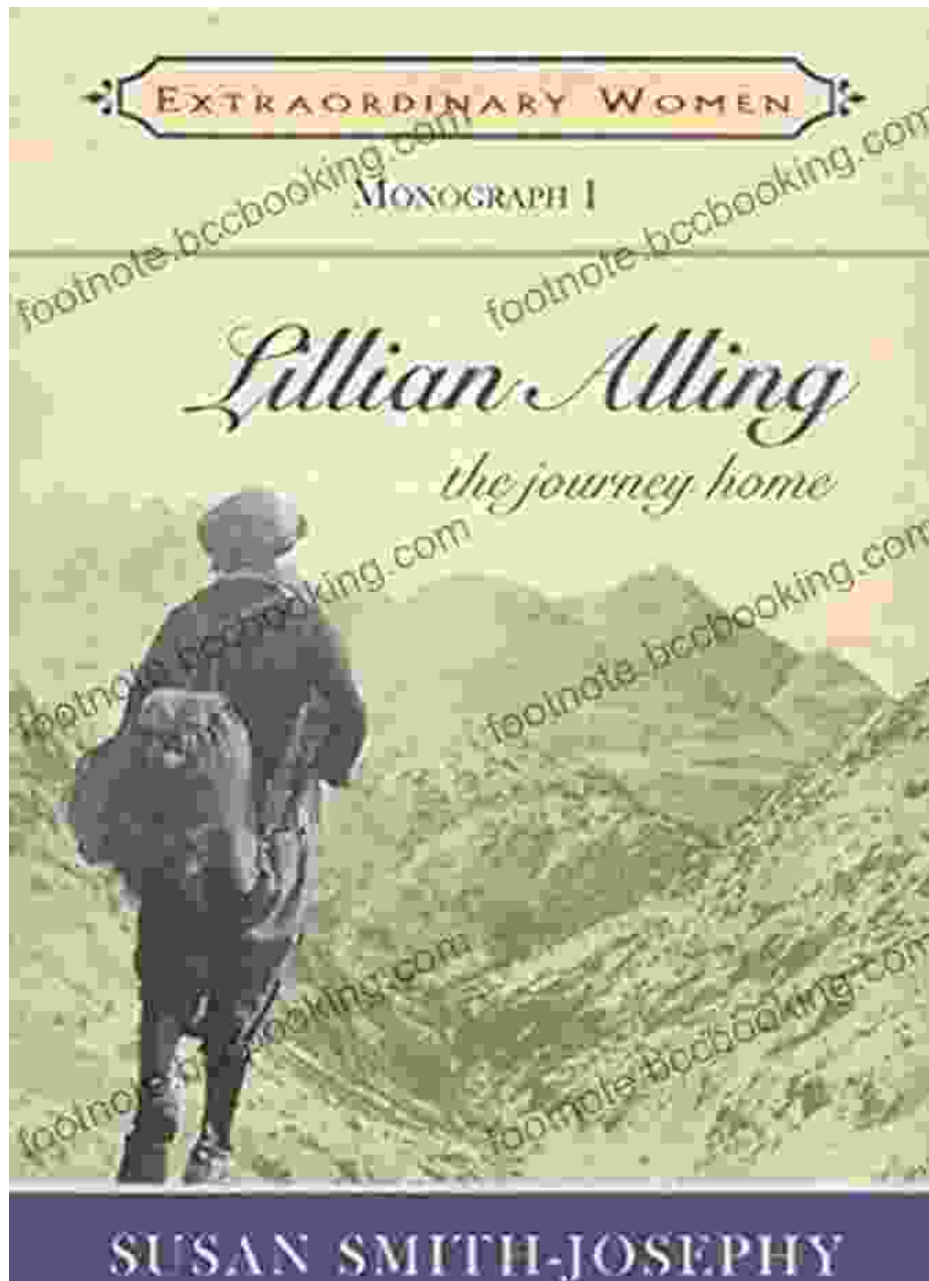

Here are just a few of the extraordinary women featured in this book:

- Malala Yousafzai, who was shot in the head by the Taliban for speaking out in favor of education for girls.
- Oprah Winfrey, who overcame poverty and abuse to become one of the most successful women in the world.
- Maya Angelou, who wrote about her experiences as a black woman in America.
- Rosa Parks, who refused to give up her seat on a bus to a white man.
- Amelia Earhart, who was the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic Ocean.

These women are just a few examples of the many extraordinary women who have made a difference in the world. Their stories will inspire you to reach your own goals and make a difference in the world.

If you are looking for a book that will inspire you, motivate you, and empower you, then Lillian Alling's The Journey Home: Extraordinary Women is the book for you.
