This book is a collection of essays that explore the author's own experiences with grief, loss, and healing. It is a raw and honest account of the messy and often contradictory emotions that come with losing a loved one. The author writes with humor and wit, but she also does not shy away from the pain and sadness that is part of the grieving process.

This book is a must-read for anyone who has ever experienced loss. It is a powerful and moving reminder that we are not alone in our grief, and that it is possible to find healing and hope even in the darkest of times.

Review

"This book is a gift. It is a raw and honest account of the grieving process, but it is also full of hope and humor. The author writes with such compassion and understanding, and she has a way of making you feel like you're not alone. I highly recommend this book to anyone who has ever experienced loss."
